For each x we have $h(x) \sim \frac{1}{2}x^2$,
and $h(x) \sim \frac{1}{2}x^2$ for $x \rightarrow \infty$, if $h(x) = \frac{1}{2}x^2 + o(x^2)$ as $x \rightarrow \infty$.
The function $h(x)$ is called a quadratic function. The graph of a quadratic function is a parabola.
The vertex of a parabola is the point where it changes direction. The axis of symmetry of a parabola is the line that passes through the vertex and is perpendicular to the chord of the parabola that is parallel to the axis of symmetry.
The focus of a parabola is the point such that the distance from any point on the parabola to the focus is equal to the distance from that point to the axis of symmetry.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a form or document. The text is written in a dark ink on a light background. The characters are highly stylized and difficult to decipher. The text appears to be organized into several lines, with some lines starting with a large, bold letter, possibly a section header or a specific identifier. The overall appearance is that of a handwritten document or form.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a personal letter or a collection of notes. The text is written in a fluid, connected style with some variations in ink color and line thickness. The content is mostly illegible due to the cursive nature of the handwriting, but some words and phrases are recognizable, such as "Reineclauden" and "guten".

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a form or document, consisting of approximately 12 lines of text. The characters are highly stylized and difficult to decipher, but appear to be a mix of letters and numbers. The text is written in black ink on a white background.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a letter or a page from a manuscript. The text is written in a fluid, connected style with various flourishes and ligatures. It appears to be a personal or official communication, though the specific words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive nature of the handwriting.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous block. It includes several lines of text, some of which appear to be signatures or names, possibly "H. H." at the end of the second block.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, appearing as a final line or a separate note at the bottom of the page.

It is a very good thing to have a good name, for it is a good thing to have a good name, for it is a good thing to have a good name, for it is a good thing to have a good name.

The best name is not the best name.

A good name is a good thing, for it is a good thing to have a good name.

It is a good thing to have a good name.

Handwritten musical notation on a page, consisting of approximately 12 staves of music. The notation is written in black ink on white paper. It features various rhythmic values, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. The notation is somewhat dense and appears to be a single melodic line. The handwriting is cursive and somewhat slanted. The page number 494 is visible at the bottom center.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a letter or a page from a manuscript. The text is written in a fluid, connected style with various flourishes and ligatures. The characters are dark and the background is light. The text is arranged in approximately 12 horizontal lines, filling most of the page. The script is highly stylized and difficult to decipher without a key or context.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a personal letter or diary entry. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. The first line appears to be a date or a reference: "18, 11 - 1871". The rest of the text is a continuous flow of words and phrases, though difficult to decipher due to the cursive and some fading. The text ends with a signature that appears to be "Jagor".

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a form or document. The text is written in a dark ink on a light background. It consists of several lines of text, with some lines starting with a dash or a tilde. The handwriting is fluid and somewhat slanted. The text is mostly illegible due to the cursive style and the angle of the writing.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a form or document. The text is written in dark ink on a light background. It consists of approximately 12 lines of text, with some lines starting with a dash or a tilde. The script is highly stylized and difficult to decipher. The text appears to be a form or document, possibly related to a medical or legal record, given the presence of a signature at the end.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a list or a series of entries. The text is written in a dark ink on a light background. The entries appear to be numbered or dated, with some words being partially legible. The text is arranged in approximately 12 lines, with some lines starting with a checkmark or a similar symbol. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of the 18th or 19th century.
